The More Life Company is fresh, clear and human, and directly connected to the value at the heart of our work. We named the Company for the outcome, not the chemistry. It allows our technologies and partnerships to be understood by the value they can deliver for the people and markets we serve. More Life is not simply a name. It is the standard we are working toward fulfilling. Life has more to give, and our purpose is to help unlock it."

Coinciding with the Name Change, the Company has launched its new corporate website at www.themorelife.company. The website introduces The More Life Company brand and provides updated information regarding the Company's technologies and areas of focus across agriculture and human health. It will serve as the Company's primary digital destination for corporate news, investor information, technology updates and partnership inquiries. Investors should continue to refer to the Company's filings on SEDAR+ for the Company's official public disclosure record.

The share capital of the Company remains unchanged as a result of the Name Change. The Company does not expect that any action will be required by existing shareholders with respect to the Name Change.

In connection with the Name Change, the Company has also completed a continuance from the Business Corporations Act (British Columbia) to the Business Corporations Act (Ontario) and a short-form amalgamation with its wholly-owned subsidiary. These corporate reorganization steps were undertaken for corporate and administrative purposes and do not form part of any acquisition, reverse takeover, change of business or other material strategic transaction.

The Company's business, assets, liabilities, management and operations remain unchanged as a result of the Name Change, continuance and short-form amalgamation.
